

Authority Magazine

Nov 4, 2020 · 5 min read

Photo courtesy Authority Magazine

My personal motto is “There is no time in the future, so get it done today.” What I mean by this is that the future is full of unanticipated opportunities, by prioritizing what needs to be done and accomplishing those things in the present, one is well prepared to optimize future opportunities as they become available.

Danielle Gustafson is the first Executive Director at the EMS FDNY Help Fund. Her prior work includes more than twenty years as a digital strategy executive in financial services. She is also a TED Resident, and serves on the board of several conservation organizations.

Read more